

Step 1: Print this A4 document at 100% size (don't scale it down). Use double-sided printing if you can, otherwise print both pages and glue them together.

Step 2: Cut out the flyer using the black border as a guide.

Step 3: With the cover image (the two hands) facing you, and the text the right way up, fold the flyer in half (with the top half folding away from you), so you end up with a long thin piece of folded paper.

Step 4: Flip the document horizontally so that the black & white photo of the girl is facing you and is on the left-hand side.

Step 5: The document now needs to be folded into threes. Fold the right-hand side of the document ("Ngā paetukutuku whaitake") to the left, so that it lines up with the edge of the black & white photo of the girl. Keep the document folded up this way for the next step.

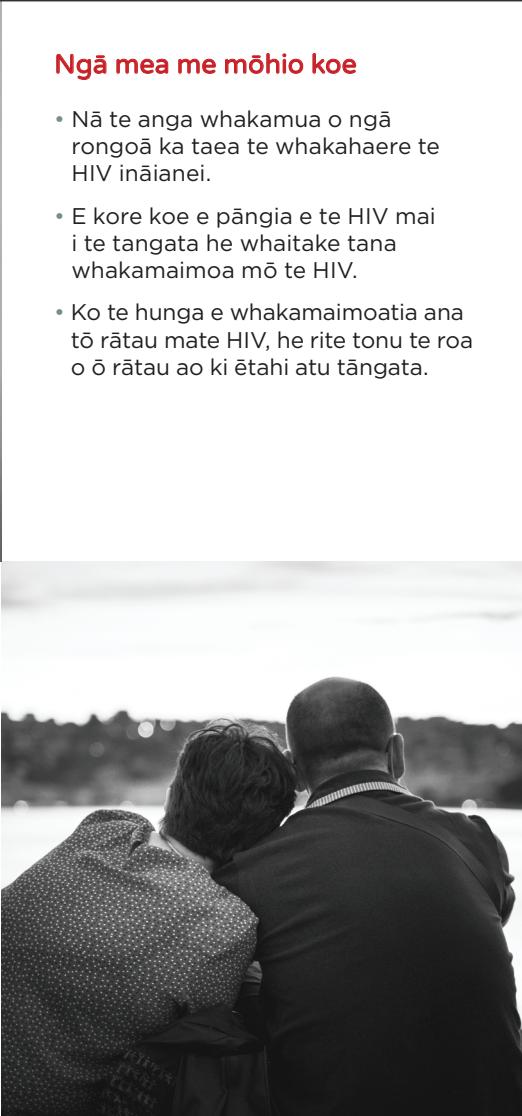

Step 6: Fold the cover (with the image of the two hands) to the right so that it covers the rest of the document.
